

Galini Iliopoulou

Human Capital Consulting
Director

Galini is an Occupational psychologist and Director at ICAP Human Capital Consulting. She has extensive experience in managing and implementing HR projects at different levels for clients from a range of sectors.

Since 2012, when she joined ICAP, she builds on experience gained by participating in the planning and implementing of large number of projects in selection, development and executive assessments, psychometric assessments, performance management systems, outplacement services, organizational development programs, coaching and training. In the past, Galini worked as an HR Consultant in Hay Group and SHL Greece.

She holds a degree in Psychology from the University of Athens, an MSc in Occupational and Organisational Psychology, from the University of Surrey, UK, and a certification in coaching from ICPS.

She is a certified trainer of Hogan Level 1 Certification Workshop, Hogan Advanced Feedback Certification Workshop and Hogan Advanced Interpretation Certification Workshop. She is also trained in the use and interpretation of psychometric tools from the British Psychological Society, as well as in the use and interpretation of AON Assessments, META Profiling psychometric tools and SHL psychometric methodologies. She is a licensed psychologist and an active member of Learning and Development Think Tank of EIDAM/ EEDE.

She is the co-founder of WHEN (Women on Top) mentoring network, an NGO for the empowerment of women in the workplace.